Practice II

Title of the Practice: EXAMINATION DATA PROCESSING CELL

An Examination Data Processing Cell has been established with dedicated software prepared by MECON India Ltd. (a Govt. of India Undertaking). The Cell has two latest Servers and 25 computers. Here the entire examination process, right from initial registration of the student to the issue of Final Degree, is completed. This has computerized the entire examination system, which ensures both transparency and confidentiality.

- Bilingual degree (Hindi English) with hologram affixed on it is provided to students.
- Mark sheet with QR Code is provided to students.

- Steps have been initiated to provide the result and marks to the examinees through two-way mobile SMS.
- Evidence of Success The Examination Data Processing Cell of Ranchi University is very successful. One of the major benefits is that the examinations are held and results are published as per schedule. Moreover, the human-error in examination process has been nullified.
- Problems Encountered and Resources Required Major problems encountered in establishing the Cell was psychological. The mind-set of staff was attuned to manual system. Initially there was some problem in this regard. However, it was resolved soon. Another problem was acquiring suitable software. MECON helped the University in this regard.
